Man About Town.

We noticed in one of our millinery stores the other day a lady purchasing a hat;the lady in attendance remarked; 'the white feather on the hat makes you look five years younger." With a smile on her face you could not wipe off with a lace handkerchief she said,"put three more feathers like that on the hat and I will take it."

We noticed one of our leading physicians riding in a carriage behind the hearse; it looked very much to us like cause following effect.

We are having strikes and rumors of strikes; men want their wages raised and they want shorter hours, so they will have time to spend the raise.

We read in India in some places they bury the living wife with the dead husband. The poor husband,even death doesn't bring him no release.

It wouldn't be hard to be real good if there was much fun in it.

We met a young lady the other night that was a wonder, she couldn't play on the piano; she couldn't sing, In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree; she couldn't recite "Curfew shall not ring to night"; and she didn't chew gum; but she was only six months old.

The questions before the Windowsill Club at the last meeting were; "If a young man's arm has the right of way around a young lady's waist is he trying to railroad himself into her affections"; and "Will feeding a hen egg plant increase her laying qualities."

Henry Zarps says a woman can't drive a nail or a horse but when it comes to driving a bargain, she is there with both feet.

A little fellow living on Fifth street, when going to bed the other night, his mother asked him if he had said his prayers. Gracious yes, said he, I have said them three weeks ahead.

Uncle Peter tells of a man who had a five cent cigar named after him and when he found they were selling them two for five he committed suicide.

We read the Baldwin Locomotive Works in Philadelphia make a locomotive every hour. That's nothing strange we have made the Erie mail train here in three minutes.

Time is money; we have some time we would like to get changed into small bills. Some how time never seems to hang heavily on the hands of a clock.

At the next meeting of the council, they will be asked to appropriate money to buy a scythe for Chief Mundy to be used in keeping the weeds cut in the streets the coming summer.

A lady living up near the tannery hands in the following. It is a little tough on brother Kenley but he can stand it:

I don't know where Im going,
When I leave this vale of tears,
Maybe to that awful place,
And yet it kind 'o cheers,
To think, while there and walking
Along the streets, I'll pass
The man that robbed the people,
Selling poor St. Marys Gas.

Speaking of our beautiful young ladies she gets a little sarcastic and says:

Thero are girls here in Em-po-ri-um,
From morning till night they chew gum,
They watch for the new comers,
And flirt with the drummers,
At night when they ought to be 'hum.

Lent is nearly over, our good intentions have all been lived up to, there being a scarcity of ministers in town at present it behoves us brethren, to join hands and put the devil out of business.

Brother Pyle believes in an open door policy; says when he plays the game, if he ever does, he don't want to sneak around to a side door; says he believes in a permanent investment and thinks the most permanent investment a man can make is to buy a lot in the cemetery.

One of our ministers announces his subject for next Sunday evening, "Sermons of Women." Probably very few men will attend for they hear such sermons everyday in the week.

Subscription book now open to those wishing to subscribe anything towards purchasing us a new easter hat. Please send in their names powder stock, postage stamps or orders on the company accepted.

What's in McClure's.

McClure's for April has the freshness and cheerfulness of spring. You will want to read it all. Its articles, stories and verses, have a rare charm for the shortening evening. Mary Stewart Cutting's "Symphony in Coal," which heads the table of contents, is another of those fascinating, sympathetic stories of married life. The most hair-raising chapter of adventure that has been published in a long time is the sixth instalment of Carl Schurz's "Reminiscences of a Long Life" "Rescuing Kinkel from Spandau Jail" is a story of intrigue and hair breadth chances in the shadow of the gallows, told with the happy swing of youth, that holds you from first word to last. Best of all it is true. "Some Diet Delusions" by Dr. Wood Hutchinson, is not only amusing; it has a very definite purpose it scares away the old bogies. After you have read it, you will eat a square meal with a clear conscience. Perhaps the most timely paper in the number is Percival Gibbon's sketch of Count Witte, who is the crux of the situation in Russia. Clara Morrs contributes another charming chapter of reminiscences of the world behind the curtain, through which walk many of the old actors and actresses of our early days. Stewart Edward White's fourth Arizoua Night story, "The Ranch Foreman's Yarn;" the Cattle Rustler story, gives a phase of western life about which little has been written hitherto. The story defines a bad man in no uncertain terms. Other fiction in this splendid number.

The Observer.

The Rev. Doctor Torrey has been justly criticized for seeking to convert children by appealing to their fears. It is doubtful if even St. John the Baptist would have addressed such appeals to children. And yet it was of the Baptist that Christ said that "he that is the least in the Kingdon of God is greater than he." The chief and highest appeal to Christianity is ever to the love and honor of men.

Nevertheless it is a mistake to assume that fear has no proper educative value and no legitimate place in the religious appeal. By nature we are undisciplined. Obedience is always something that has to be learned, and learned usually through pain and suffering. At first we do not understand what is best for us. If left wholly free from constraint we should be sure to wander into ways that are not the best. Conformity to the right way has therefore to be enforced upon us, and this experience is always one of hardship to us. But the time comes to most of us when we realize that the path which we have begun to tread unwillingly is after all the right path for us. We go on in it, not because we are still compelled to, but we have chosen it for ourselves. We are then subject, no longer for wrath, but also for conscience' sake. It is a law of the development of human life and character, that obedience to the right begins blindly and unwillingly. There is a stage when every child submits blindly, and even unwillingly, to parental control and guidance. It is necessary at this stage that authority should be enforced, not capriciously nor cruelly, but wisely, firmly, kindly. The fear to which appeal is made is not the fear of tyrannous cruelty, but the fear of just and benevolent authority. When authority is firmly enforced in this spirit, the effect is educative, and tends to lift the character to a higher plane of obedience, an obedience based in trust and sympathy, in intelligent understanding and sense of right.

We not wish to raise the hopes of our people too much, yet we firmly believe that a great boom is in the air for Emporium. Keep cool and watch.

WILLIAM CARLISLE ARNOLD.

A Fitting Tribute to a Brilliant Man From His Home Paper.

[DuBois Courier, March 21.]

The death of the Hon. W. C. Arnold, which was announced yesterday without the faintest anticipation, removes from the community one of its most prominent and influential citizens. It leaves a void in the ranks of his profession in the county and his town, and in social and political circles.

The final call removed him at the time when he had been ripened by experience for his greatest usefulness—for most valuable counsel either professional or as a friend.

Those who are acquainted with his career know that he was initiative in his habits and general character He was much less an imitator than many men who achieve a large measure of success, which made his cause and position thoroughly representative of the individual. Whenever he took up a cause he did so to battle for victory. He had the courage to strike bold, hard blows where the issues required it, yet he was a man of large heart and none was ever more ready to bridge a chasm when the flag of truce was sincerely offererd. His suave countenance, bearing, outspoken loyalty to his community and great magnanimity made him an exceptionally popular citizen and much loved by those who knew best his qualities of mind and heart. The charity in his heart for his fellowmen was so broad and deep that it was known to all men who ever carried their troubles to him. They always found him a wise counselor, sympathetic and frank in his counsel.

Notation of Appreciation.

EMPORIUM, Pa., March 17, 1906.

At a meeting of the Official Board of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Emporium the following minutes were unanimously adopted:

As Rev. O. S. Metzler, who has been pastor for the past six years, has indicated to us that the probabilities are that at the coming Conference he would be transferred to another charge we desire to express to him our appreciation of his services while our pastor, and to say, when he came to us we were burdened with a debt of five thousand dollars, which he collected and paid in two years, that he afterwards installed a splendid pipe organ at a cost of two thousand, two hundred dollars; that a new steam heating plant has been placed in the church, and recently a new piano purchased and the new hymnals ordered. The missionary collection has increased from $334.00 to $435.00 and the membership of the church from 239 to 340.

For this ever faithful and watchful care of the interests of the Church we express to him our sincere thanks and we commend him to any Church to which he may be sent, as an eloquent and successful pulpit orator.

We present to Brother Metzler a copy of this expression of our appreciation and our good-will and also send copies to Rev. J. F. Berry Presiding Bishop and Rev. Thomas Wilcox Presiding Elder of this District, and direct that these minutes be transcribed upon the church records

De-lighted.

Four titled foreigners visit Harry Lloyd's store, to whom Mr. Lloyd makes a record sale of Edison Phonographs.

Four gentlemen of foreign birth,
Had started on a trip,
Of pleasure to America's fair shore,
They landed safe and happy
From off the big steamship,
And wondered what the future held in store.

One of them hailed from England,
From France another came,
One also came from Germany's fair soil,
The fourth man of this good quartette
Upheld an honored name,
In his dear native land, the Emerald Isle.

In Philadelphia and New York,
And at Niagara Nalls,
At Saratoga, Buffalo and Troy,
Then Williamsport and Scranton,
Their admiration called,
And many pleasant hours were enjoyed.

They visited Emporium, and
While walking down the streets,
They came upon a handsome business block,
And from an open door, the strains,
Of music low and sweet,
Fell softly on their ears and made them stop.

"Let's all go in,' the German said,
"And spend a little time,
To listen to the latest song or laugh;
If my ears do not deceive me,
Those sweet, harmonious chimes,
Are rendered by the Edison Phonograph."

They quickly passed into the store,
And to the merchant spoke,
And said, "kind sir, a favor we would ask,
Will you play each of us a piece?
Your patience we invoke,
And we will gladly pay you for your task."

"With pleasure, sirs," the merchat said,
"To please you is our aim,
Our records, they are strictly up-to-date,
So if you kindly condescend
To give to me the names,
I will gladly play for you while you walk."

"Please play for me, 'God Sake the King',"
The Englishman replied,
"To my poor ear, there's nothing quite so fine."
The Frenchman wished "The Grand Marscellies,"
Its same has never died,
The German chose "The Good Watch on the Rhine."

"I love the tune, 'St. Patrick's Day'," The Irishman then said,
"It puts me in the proper manner,
To listen to another tune
For which brave men have bled;
Please give us next your own—"Star Spangled Banner."

These four men then took off their hats,
Each clasped the merchant's hand,
Said they, "the greatest pleasure we've enjoyed,
Is listening to the music,
Of the Edison Phonograph,
In the well appointed store of Harry Lloyd."

Then they departed on their way,
Best wishes followed them,
Each holding a neat package at his side,
Which contained a modern wonder,
The Edison Phonograph,
Which was purchased from our good friend,
Harry Lloyd.

—John F. Sullivan.

The Old and the New.

Rev. Mr. Metzler, who so creditably served the Emporium Methodist church for six years, departed on Wednesday for eastern points on business before entering upon his new work at Williamsport, having been appointed to Mulberry street church. He will hold his own as one of the ablest and most eloquent divines in the state.

The new pastor coming to Emporium is Rev. Nelson E. Cleaver, of Danville, Pa., Trinity Church. He is a very able preacher, practically a young man and married. Rev. Cleaver will be here Easter Sunday.

Old-World Influences.

The Japanese in the Hawaiian Islands celebrated in many picturesque ways the victories of their fellow countrymen over Russia, notably the fall of Port Arthur. On one occasion a Portuguese band, playing American patriotic airs, headed a procession of Japanese parading under an American flag in honor of an Asiatic triumph, while sympathetic Chinese onlookers lined the streets. It is hard to exaggerate, says Youth's Companion, the influence on the politics of the modern world of various colonies of people whose industrial interests require them to live in a land other than their own, but whose hearts beat warmly in oversea sympathies. The Russians were at a disadvantage in enlisting American sympathy in their recent war, because most Russian subjects residing here belonged to the revolutionary element of their own country, and were opposed to the government of the czar. During the recent war in South Africa, Hollanders, and a great many of their near kinsmen, the Germans, expressed their sympathy with the Boers so openly and defiantly, even in such distant British colonies as Hong-Kong, that the manifestation of anti-British sentiment more than once threatened serious disturbance of the peace. American politics and opinions are constantly influenced by the views of the expatriated sons of other nations. The recent disruption of the dual kingdom of Norway and Sweden made it necessary for some public men in the northwestern states to take special efforts to prevent a division of the Scandinavian vote. The Irish vote and its influence in politics are matters too well known to require more than a mention. Inasmuch as many public questions in this country are those which are contested abroad, it is not strange that opinions acquired across the seas should have influence in determining American results. There is room, moreover, for this country to profit by the experience of other lands, if it is brought into our affairs in the right spirit. But this is no place for working out Old World grudges. The primary obligation of all comers here is to be Americans, and help form, from the composite of American opinion, a national policy of the republic and for the republic.

Probably no other part of the United States except in East Liverpool, O., is there a baseball diamond from which it is possible to bat a ball into any one of three states. Such a condition actually exists at the grounds which have just been leased for the Klondike club there. The diamond is laid out on a lot which is known as the "state line corner." If a batsman makes a hit over third base the ball will be sent into West Virginia. Should a foul tip result the catcher would have to chase the ball in Pennsylvania. If a straight drive or bunt is made the ball will bowl into the state of Ohio. Taking advantage of this freak of nature, the Klondike club is going to advertise the fact that its club will play ball in three states simultaneously.

That a universal language may be constructed is easily possible, but that it will meet with universal acceptance must be doubted, says the Kansas City Journal. Esperanto is a pleasant theory upon which to speculate, but it is hard to conceive of a Frenchman or an Englishman or a German or any others of the list giving up the cherished language of his fatherland for that to which no sentiment attaches and which is represented by no flag, no country and no literature. As stated by Prof. Whitney, "One universal language, like one universal community, is not an absurdity or theoretic impossibility but only a Utopian or millennial dream."

The removal of hats by women in churches is under discussion in Brooklyn owing to the request by Rev. W. H. Wilson, of the Arlington Avenue Presbyterian church that hereafter the women of his congregation take off their hats a few minutes before the beginning of the service. Mr. Wilson explained that male parishioners had called his attention to the fact that they could not see him while he was speaking. They believed that if the women should remove their hats their vision would not be so much obstructed.

SIX KILLED.

Horrible Find in a Minneapolis House.

BODIES MUTILATED

No Clew as to the Cause of the Deed—Other Occupants of House Have Disappeared.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Six murdered Bulgarian laborers were found Wednesday in an old house in this city, and the police are uncertain how or when the murders were committed, although the evidence thus far secured indicates that the men were killed during a fight among 12 Bulgarians who had rented the house. The six others have disappeared.

The police are convinced that robbery was not the cause of all the murders, as considerable money was found on the bodies. They also scout the idea of any secret society with motives of revenge.

Four of the bodies, horribly cut and slashed with knives, were found in a room on the second floor, while in the cellar were two others with their throats cut. Near the bodies were found five large bowie knives and a hatchet.

The two bodies in the basement, according to Coroner Kistler, had been dead nearly two days. The bodies in the upper rooms appeared to have been killed more recently.

The police say that the men found in the basement may have been murdered for their money and that a fight followed upstairs over a division of the spoils.

The bodies found upstairs were slashed all over, especially about the faces and the throats. One man had fallen against a hot stove and the right side of his face was burned off. Near the bodies found upstairs were two money belts containing $506 in gold. On one of the bodies was found a watch that was still going. Some of the bodies had been stripped.

FIRST ARREST.

Grand Larceny Charge Against George W. Perkins, former Vice President of New York Life, in Campaign Contribution Case.

New York.—On a charge that his connection with the contribution of $48,702.50 from the funds of the New York Life Insurance Co. to Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the republican national committee in the campaign of 1904, constituted grand larceny in the first degree, George W. Perkins, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., and until recently first vice president of the New York Life Insurance Co., was arrested Wednesday on a warrant issued by Magistrate Moss.

When a detective went to serve the warrant upon Mr. Perkins he found that a writ of habeas corpus had already been obtained from Justice Greenbaum, of the state supreme court, and the matter was immediately taken out of the magistrate's hands. Mr. Perkins appeared before Justice Greenbaum and at the request of his counsel the hearing in the case was adjourned until Friday. Mr. Perkins was paroled in the custody of his attorney.

Mr. Perkins' counsel admitted to Justice Greenbaum that Mr. Perkins had advanced the sum named to Mr. Bliss upon the request of the late John A. McCall, president of the New York Life. He was afterward reimbursed through the action of the company's finance committee. It was contended that Mr. McCall had executive authority to order the payment, and that if any crime was committed it was participated in by every member of the finance committee present when the matter was acted upon.

Congressional.

Washington.—Mr. Knox, of Pennsylvania, addressed the senate on the railroad rate question on the 28th. He expressed the opinion that Mr. Bailey's amendment depriving the United States circuit courts of the power to grant injunctions would not stand the test of the courts. The remainder of the day was devoted to the bill regulating the affairs of the five civilized tribes of indians. The house passed a rule prohibiting limitless points of order in discussion of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Some progress was made on the bill.

Dam Washed Away.

Casper, Wyo.—The great dam at Alcova, erected at a cost of $100,000 by the government reclamation service, was washed away Tuesday by flood water in the North Plate river. The steel bridge built by the government six miles below the dam at Pathfinder was also carried away. Cabins, barns and property of all descriptions are floating down on the swollen stream.

COALAFFAIRS

Joint Scal Committee Adjourns Sine Die.

COULD NOT AGREE.

Anthracite Miners' Scale Committee Orders a Suspension of Work, Beginning April 2.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Without agreement on a wage scale, the conferences of bituminous coal operators and miners of the central competitive district adjourned sine die Thursday, leaving affairs in such a condition that a strike of 275,000 miners seems probable at the expiration of the present scale Saturday, March 31.

The disagreement came after a struggle lasting ten days and disrupts the inter-state agreement which has existed since 1898 between operators and miners, through which wage scales and other differences have been adjusted.

The final vote in the central conference competitive field, on which other districts base their settlement, was on a motion offered by President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, to restore for two years the wage scale of 1903, which would have been an increase in wages of 5.55 per cent. The operators of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio voted against the proposal and defeated it. The disruption of the conference followed. Operators of western Pennsylvania and the miners of four states voted for the proposal.

F. L. Robbins and other operators, representing about one-third of the coal production of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, offered to pay the advance and urged the miners to accept this advance and continue work in their mines, even though the other mines in the four states should be idle.

The convention of miners Friday will decide whether to permit this or not, or demand that all miners suspend work until all have been paid the advance.

The anthracite miners' scale committee Thursday night issued orders for a total suspension of mining in the three anthracite districts beginning Monday Morning, April 2. The committee informed President Baer that the miners' scale committee will meet the operators' scale committee in New York City on Tuesday, April 3.

The coal operators of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio and those of western Pennsylvania who have opposed the payment of an increase in wages to the bituminous coal miners, adopted the following resolutions in executive session:

"Resolved, that we, coal operators of the states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania, representing 80 per cent. of the tonnage in the territory involved, who have felt and still feel unable to pay any advance in wages at this time, do hereby propose that the president of the United States appoint a committee to investigate all matters which, in the judgment of such commission, have an important bearing upon or relation to the scale of wages which should be paid all classes of labor in and about the coal mines of the territory herein involved, and other conditions now imposed and insisted on by the United Mine Workers of America, such commission to report to the president of the United States its findings of facts, together with its recommendations.

"Be it further resolved that such commission have power to administer oaths and compel attendance of witnesses."

The resolutions in full were telegraphed to President Roosevelt.

Successors are Chosen.

Washington, D. C.—At a meeting of the republican members of the Wisconsin delegation in congress Thursday Representative J. H. Davidson, of the Eighth district, was chosen to represent the state on the republican congressional campaign committee as successor of Representative Babcock. Representative Landis has been selected by the Indiana delegation to succeed Representative Overstreet on the committee.

Congressional.

In the senate on the 29th several speeches were made on the railroad rate bill. All the senators who spoke on the bill indicated a purpose to support it. A bill to reorganize the medical department of the army by the appointment of officers to take the place of contract surgeons was passed. The house spent the day in discussing the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Conductors and Motormen Strike.

Antonio Orlando, for the same offense, got one year, or $300 fine.

Named for Collector of Customs.

Washington, D. C.—The president Thursday sent to the senate the name of Benjamin D. Brown for collector of customs at Erie, Pa.

For the purpose of studying the causes of mountain sickness, two French medical authorities, Drs. Guillemark and Moog, during last July made a stay at the Mont Blanc observatory. The Coffee Debate.

The published statements of a number of coffee importers and roasters indicate a "waspy" feeling towards us, for daring to say that coffee is harmful to a percentage of the people.

A frank public discussion of the subject is quite agreeable to us and can certainly do no harm; on the contrary, when all the facts on both sides of any question are spread before the people they can thereupon decide and act intelligently.

Give the people plain facts and they will take care of themselves.

We demand facts in this coffee discussion and propose to see that the facts are brought clearly before the people.

A number of coffee importers and roasters have joined a movement to boom coffee and stop the use of Postum Food Coffee and in their newspaper statements undertake to deceive by false assertions.

Their first is that coffee is not harmful.

We assert that one in every three coffee users has some form of incipient or chronic disease; realize for one moment what a terrible menace to a nation of civilized people when one kind of beverage cripples the energies and health of one-third the people who use it.

We make the assertion advisedly and suggest that the reader secure his own proof by personal inquiry among coffee users.

Ask your coffee drinking friends if they keep free from any sort of aches and ails. You will be startled at the percentage and will very naturally seek to place the cause of disorder on something aside from coffee, whether food, inherited tendencies or something else.

Go deeper in your search for facts.

If your friend admits occasional neuralgia, rheumatism, heart weakness, stomach or bowel trouble, kidney complaint, weak eyes, or approaching nervous prostration induce him or her to make the experiment of leaving off coffee for 10 days and using Postum Food Coffee, and observe the result. It will startle you and give your friend something to think of. Of course, if the person is one of the weak ones and says "I can't quit" you will have discovered one of the slaves of the coffee importer. Treat such kindly, for they seem absolutely powerless to stop the gradual but sure destruction of body and health.

Nature has a way of destroying a part of the people to make room for the stronger. It is the old law of "the survival of the fittest" at work, and the victims are many.

We repeat the assertion that coffee does harm many people, not all, but an army large enough to appal the investigator and searcher for facts.

The next prevarication of the coffee importers and roasters is their statement that Postum Food Coffee is made of roasted peas, beans or corn, and mixed with a low grade of coffee and that it contains no nourishment.

We have previously offered to wager $100,000.00 with them that their statements are absolutely false.

They have not accepted our wager and they will not.

We will gladly make a present of $25,000.00 to any roaster or importer of old-fashioned coffee who will accept that wager.

Free inspection of our factories and methods is made by thousands of people each month and the coffee importers themselves are cordially invited. Both Postum and Grape-Nuts are absolutely pure and made exactly as stated.

The formula of Postum and the analysis made by one of the foremost chemists of Boston has been printed on every package for many years and is absolutely accurate.

Now as to the food value of Postum. It contains the parts of the wheat berry which carry the elemental salts such as lime, iron, potash, silica, etc., etc., used by the life forces to rebuild the cellular tissue, and this is particularly true of the phosphate of potash, also found in Grape-Nuts, which combines in the human body will albumen and this combination, together with water, rebuilds the worn out gray matter in the delicate nerve centers all over the body, and throughout the brain and solar plexus.

Ordinary coffee stimulates in an unnatural way, but with many people it slowly and surely destroys and does not rebuild this gray substance so vitally important to the well-being of every human being.

These are eternal facts, proven, well authenticated and known to every properly educated physician, chemist and food expert.

Please remember we never say ordinary coffee hurts everyone.

Some people use it regularly and seem strong enough to withstand its attacks, but there is misery and disease in store for the man or woman who persists in its use when nature protests, by heart weakness, stomach and bowel troubles, kidney disease, weak eyes, or general nervous prostration. The remedy is obvious. The drug caffeine, contained in all ordinary coffee, must be discontinued absolutely or the disease will continue in spite of any medicine and will grow worse.

It is easy to leave off the old-fashioned coffee by adopting Postum Food Coffee, for in it one finds a pleasing hot breakfast or dinner beverage that has the deep seal brown color, changing to a rich golden brown when good cream is added. When boiled long enough (15 minutes) the flavor is not that of rank Rio coffee but very like the milder, smooth and high grade Java, but entirely lacking the drug effect of ordinary coffee.

Anyone suffering from disorders set up by coffee drinking (and there is an extensive variety) can absolutely depend upon some measure of relief by quitting coffee and using Postum Food Coffee.

If the disease has not become too strongly rooted, one can with good reason expect it to disappear entirely in a reasonable time after the active cause of the trouble is removed and the cellular tissue has time to naturally rebuild with the elements furnished by Postum and good food.

It's only just plain old common sense.

Now, with the exact facts before the reader, he or she can decide the wise course, looking to health and the power to do things.

If you have any doubt as to the cause of any ache or ail you may have, remember the far-reaching telegrams of a hurt nervous system travel from heel to head, and it may be well worth your while to make the experiment of leaving off coffee entirely for 10 days and using Postum in its place.

You will probably gather some good solid facts, worth more than a gold mine, for health can make gold and sickness lose it. Besides there's all the fun, for it's like a continuous internal frolic to be perfectly well.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

FOOD HELPS

In Management of a R. R.

Speaking of food a railroad man says:

"My work puts me out in all kinds of weather, subject to irregular hours for meals and compelled to eat all kinds of food.

"For 7 years I was constantly troubled with indigestion, caused by eating heavy, fatty, starchy, greasy, poorly cooked food, such as are most accessible to men in my business. Generally each meal or lunch was followed by distressing pains and burning sensations in my stomach, which destroyed my sleep and almost unfitted me for work. My brain was so muddy and foggy that it was hard for me to discharge my duties properly.

"This lasted till about a year ago, when my attention was called to Grape-Nuts food by a newspaper ad. and I concluded to try it. Since then I have used Grape-Nuts at nearly every meal and sometimes between meals. We railroad men have little chance to prepare our food in our cabooses and I find Grape-Nuts mighty handy, for it is ready cooked.

"To make a long story short, Grape-Nuts has made a new man of me. I have no more burning distress in my stomach, nor any other symptom of indigestion. I can digest anything so long as I eat Grape-Nuts, and my brain works as clearly and accurately as an engineer's watch, and my old nervous troubles have disappeared entirely." THE MINERS.

The Indianapolis Convention Adjourns.

NO ARBITRATION.

Authorized the District Officers to Sign Wage Agreements at the Scale of 1902.

Indianapolis, Ind. — Amelioration of the threatened strike of bituminous coal miners on April 1 was secured Friday by the United Mine Workers, who before adjourning without day, authorized national and district officers to sign wage agreements with any coal operator who would agree to pay the scale of 1903 or its equivalent for a period of two years. This is an advance of 5.55 per cent. in wages in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania and all other districts except the southwest, composed of Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas and the Indian Territory, where an advance of three cents a ton is demanded as the 1903 scale is in force in that district.

The convention declined an offer made by the operators of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio to submit the wage differences to arbitration. Where a coal operator owns mines in different districts the scale must be signed for all the properties at the same time before any of his mines will be allowed to run.

The action of the convention probably will bring out of the mines on April 1 some 500,000 miners in the anthracite and the bituminous fields. These will remain on strike, it is said, until settlements have been signed by districts or with individual operators.

President Mitchell said Friday that he believed one-half of the tonnage of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and western Pennsylvania would sign soon. The miners expect few operators in the southwest will sign at once.

President Mitchell had control of the convention throughout its sessions. He signified Friday that if the convention did not adopt the resolution permitting the miners to sign wherever the advance scale was paid he would resign. The vote was almost unanimous, although Vice President Lewis took a vigorous position against it.

BUSINESS BULLETIN.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report Trade Conditions Favorable.

New York.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Trade reports are still somewhat irregular, owing to widely different weather conditions and uneasiness regarding the labor situation. Manufacturing plants are not reducing output, statistics for March promising to establish new maximum records in many industries, but the future contains an element of disturbance in the numerous demands for higher wages.

Out door work is rapidly increasing and preparations are being made for a record breaking year in building and agriculture. Soft roads retard the movement of grain to market and impede the return traffic in merchandise at many interior points, but this is a seasonable condition, just as it is customary for dry goods jobbing sales to diminish at this time.

Less complaint is heard regarding the procrastination of consumers of pig iron, numerous contracts having been placed during the past week, and many others are now under negotiations. Confidence in all departments is sustained by the forward business in rails and structural shapes that precludes and idleness for many months at least.

Failures this week numbered 191 in the United States, against 244 last year, and 17 in Canada, compared with 33 a year ago.

Congressional.

Washington.—On the 30th ult. the house passed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill carrying $30,000,000, after considering the measure two weeks. The feature of the day's proceedings was the elimination of the age limit of clerks, a provision which created much discussion and which incited the fight against the bill. The bill as passed carries nearly $700,000 less than the last appropriation bill for similar purposes.

Hurt in a Wreck.

Fort Wayne, Ind.—Twenty-three persons were injured on Friday at South Whitney, Ind., by the overturning of the smoking car of a day coach and five sleeping cars of an eastbound train on the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railroad while running 45 miles an hour. Only the baggage car and the rear trucks of the dining car remained on the track, the other cars rolling into a ditch. It is thought that the rails spread.

Largest on the Lake.

Laporte, Ind. — The Indiana Transportation Co.'s steamer Theodore Roosevelt, built by the Toledo Shipbuilding Co., will be launched Saturday at Toledo. The Roosevelt will be the largest passenger boat on Lake Michigan.

Davis Is in the Lead.

Little Rock, Ark.—With almost complete returns from 62 out of 75 counties, Gov. Jeff Davis has a plurality of 2,072 over Senator James H. Berry for the democratic nomination for United States senator.

GET RID OF THE GAS

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Strengthen the Stomach and Enable It to Do Its Work.

When the stomach is feeble the food lies in it undigested, decays and throws off poisonous gases that distend the walls of the stomach and cause interference with other organs, especially with the action of the heart and lungs. These gases have other ill effects. The nerves and the brain are disturbed and discomforts such as dizziness, hot flashes, sleeplessness, irritableness and despondency originate from this source.

Experience shows that these troubles vanish just as soon as the stomach is made strong enough to digest the food. In other words, it needs a tonic that will rouse it to do the work of changing the food into nourishment.

Miss Minerva C. Ladd, of Ipswich, Mass., says: "I had a weak stomach from the time I was a little child. Whenever I took hearty food it would cause terrible faintness, and I would finally vomit what I had eaten. At times there would be the most intense pains through the upper part of my body. For days in succession, I would have to lie down most of the time. The distress was often so great that I could hardly bear it, and the frequent and violent belching spells were very disagreeable, too.

"My doctor's medicines gave me little relief and it was not until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I found a cure. Within three weeks a decided improvement was noticeable. The belching spells were less frequent, the pains through my body were not so intense, my food was retained and after taking the pills for a few weeks longer I found that I was altogether free from the miseries I had so long suffered."

Every dyspeptic should read "What to Eat and How to Eat." Write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free copy.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PAINT.

Important Memorandum.—The painter is the most important factor in painting. A job complete, done by a good painter, with the best quality of paint, costing say $60.00 ($40.00 labor, $20.00 paint), will last five years. The same paint applied by a dauber ($20.00 labor, $20.00 paint), will last only two years. Thus the "per-year-cost" of the good painter's job is $12.00—the poor painter's, $20.00.

Above all, USE GOOD PAINT!

The oil! linseed oil! Just pure linseed is the "life"—the one great requisite of good paint for which there is no substitute—and the sure way to get the pure, fresh linseed oil is to buy the oil and separately. For every gallon of Kinloch Paint buy one gallon of linseed oil. This makes two gallons of paint, ready for use. You then know that the paint you're putting on your house is alive—"the genuine oil is in it," and paint is not paint unless it contains 50% of really pure oil. We will further explain the virtues of Kinloch Paint if you will call and see us.

Kinloch HOUSE PAINT

TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in convention at the Lyceum theatre in the city of Harrisburg, on Wednesday, June 6, 1906, at 10:30 a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices, viz:

One person for the office of Governor;

One person for the office of Lieutenant-Governor;

One person for the office of Auditor-General.

One person for the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs; and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

In accordance with the rules governing the party, the representation in the State Convention will be based upon the vote polled at the last Presidential election. Under the rules each legislative district is intitled to one delegate for each two thousand votes cast for Republican electors in 1901, and an additional delegate for every fraction of two thousand votes polled in excess of one thousand.

By order of the State Committee,
W. R. ANDREWS, Chairman.

The Bradford Era says: The friends of Hon. Charles W. Stone are very active in his behalf. They desire to see him nominated for governor on the Republican ticket. They recognize in him a man who would be a compromise candidate—one who would stand well with the anti-organization Republicans and who would also be a "regular" at the same time, and have the support of the regulars. It need not surprise anybody to learn that delegates are being selected in his interest even now, although the Pittsburg Gazette's information is to the effect that as yet he has not fully reached a conclusion on the advisability of formally entering the arena.

Letter to Alex McDougall.

Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: There's nothing we like to tackle so well as a cheap-paint town. Devoe is cheaper than any of 'em. Cheap means dear, and cheap means cheap; you can always tell which. Cheap town is nasty; cheap Devoe is faithful and true Devoe.

Mr. A. J. Smith, Littlestown, Pa., painted his house; his painter told him to get 13½ gallons Devoe; had 4½ left.

Mr. A. H. Rebeft, same town, has lots of buildings; paints Devoe: pays 20 cents more a gallon for it; is glad to; says it's the cheapest paint there is. He knows how it covers: he don't half-know how it wears yet.

Yours truly
F. W. DEVOE & Co.,
New York.

Grip Quickly Knocked Out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says J. S. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eyes and nose runuing, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, aiding the same with a double dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." Sold by L. Taggart, J. E. Smith, Sterling Run and Crum Bros., Sinnamahoning.

Animals and Fire.

Rattlesnakes won't run from fire, but instead strike till the last at the flames about them. This is true of many animals, especially of horses, who will rush back into a burning barn, apparently blind with rage, striking with their hoofs and switching their tails in great anger.

The flight of wild birds during migrating time against lighthouses is more like the action of the green bicyclist who rides against a trolley car or wagon as if hypnotized by it and in spite of his fears.

Gorillas, it is said, delight in fire, drawing closer to the flames as the fire dies down and at last wading in the redhot ashes, apparently enchanted and not feeling the burning coals.

A little fire built beneath one of the pear-shaped paper wasp nests that are seen hanging from low branches will kill every wasp in it, as the insects fly at it one by one in their endeavors to save their home and young.

Frogs leap through the flames of a little bonfire time and time again, as if having the most pleasing of fun. It may be, though, that they think the flickering flames to be some new sort of insect.

Strange Captivity.

The springbok of South Africa migrate in vast herds, moving in a compact body and carrying everything before them. If a flock of sheep be in the line of march—as it sometimes happens—it is surrounded, enveloped and becomes, willingly or unwillingly, part of the army. An African hunter tells the strange story of seeing a lion in the midst of the antelopes, forced to join the march. It is supposed that the lion had sprung too far for his prey, that those upon whom he alighted recoiled sufficiently to allow him to reach the ground, and then the pressure from both flanks and the rear prevented him from escaping from his strange captivity. If the springbok travels in such armies, how can those in the middle and rear find food? In this wise: Those in the front ranks, after they have eaten greedily of the pasture, gradually fall out of the ranks to rest, while the hungry ones in the rear come up, and so the columns are all the while changing.

Had Him Beat.

The head day porter and the head night porter of a hotel, according to the San Francisco Chronicle, became involved in a discussion on ages. The head night porter confessed to thirty-eight.

"H'm! Say, I've got you beat ten years," declared the head day.

"You mean to tell me you're only twenty-eight?" demanded the head night.

"I should say not. I's just forty-eight," explained the head day, with an expression of withering disdain.

"Then you ain't got me beat no ten years. I's got you beat just ten years. Say, I got ten years comin' that you won't see again."

"Look here, man," declared the head day, "you ain't got no sense. I's sure of them ten years, 'cause I's seem 'em an' been through 'em. You ain't sure of yours. You might die tomorrow."

A Source of Contagion.

It has been proved by abundant investigation that one prolific source of epidemic diseases is found in the liability of the germs of such diseases to lodge in the mouth around the teeth and gums. A physician examined the teeth of the children of a certain school. He found disease germs present in almost every case. By careful watching he discovered that those children whose teeth were kept cleanest suffered less from epidemic diseases. The neglected condition of the teeth is, therefore, a common cause of illness. Indeed, if one takes the trouble to observe with what rapidity the tartar and cheesy matter accumulate around the teeth of people who are out of health they will not be long in making up their minds that a thorough and judicious use of the toothbrush is not very far from a means of grace.

An Alphabetical Advertisement.

The following remarkable alphabetical ad. appeared in an issue of the London Times away back in 1842: "To Widowers and Single Gentlemen—Wanted, by a lady, a situation to superintend the household and preside at table. She is agreeable, becoming, careful, desirable, English, facetious, generous, honest, industrious, judicious, keen, lively, merry, natty, obedient, philosophic, quiet, rosy faced, sociable, tasteful, useful, vivacious, womanish, Xantippish, youthful, zealous, etc."

The Widow's Wish.

First Chauffeur—The judge fined me $50 for running over that man and killing him, and now his widow has come around— Second Chauffeur—For damages? First Chauffeur—No. She says she wants to pay the fine!—New York Press.

He Won.

Crimsonbeak—How did you come out on your bet? Yeast—What bet? Crimsonbeak—Why, last night when you went home late you said you'd bet you'd get rats from your wife. Yeast—Oh, yes, I won!—Yonkers Statesman.

One of Fox's Puns.

"I hear you can make a pun on any subject," said a woman to the irresistible Fox. "Make one on king."

"King is no subject," promptly replied the joker.

Her Advice.

The Actor—What shall I do to fill the house at my benefit? Lady Friend—Invite your creditors.

STORY No. 4

The Biebush Band

Being an Account of the Capture and Conviction of That Notorious Band of Counterfeiters of Which Fred Biebush Was the Leader.

By CAPTAIN PATRICK D. TYRRELL

[Copyright, 1905, by Marion G. Scheitlin.]

While there was no possible doubt that the members of Biebush's family had full knowledge of the nefarious business in which he had been engaged all his life, they seemed to take his arrest as hard as though it was not to be expected. The prisoner's daughter went for her father's hat and coat. He had wanted time to get these himself, but I had refused to allow it, knowing that he undoubtedly would make his escape into the woods in the rear of his house and be lost to us—perhaps for good. The venerable malefactor took his arrest calmly, as he had done when previously arrested, and chatted with the officers on his way to the four courts, where he was locked up.

The leader of the band in custody, the work of the night was only begun. I had determined to make all the arrests that night—or as many of them as possible—before the news of the arrest of the ringleader reached the others. Twenty-six years ago the telephone was not in general use, and other means of communication were much more limited than at present, so I felt that if we worked fast the chances for any of the gang escaping us were small.

In my detective career of 40 years I do not recall another night as lively as that one. Our next move was against the Thomases. To make these arrests we took Officer Weigman, as he was familiar with the minister and his wife, and with the premises, besides being an intelligent and trustworthy policeman. Arriving at the house in Finney avenue, I sent Weigman ahead to knock at the door. Mrs. Thomas responded. Weigman asked for her husband, and the minister's wife said he was out—she believed attending a lecture at Dr. Brooke's church, but she expected him home soon.

While Weigman was holding Mrs. Thomas in conversation Wheeler and I entered the house, telling Mrs. Thomas we intended to make a search of the premises. She was properly indignant, but cool. I ordered her under arrest, and placed her in Wheeler's custody. I then sent Weigman out to wait for Thomas, as it was evident his wife had told the truth about his absence. We intended, of course, to take Mrs. Thomas to jail, and as she was not properly attired for such a trip, I directed Wheeler to have her select such additional clothing as she wished to wear.

The preacher's wife was an Amazon in physique and strongly masculine in disposition and action. She claimed to have been Mrs. Richard Pollard, a widow, when she married Thomas, two years before, having formed the acquaintance of the minister, through taking music lessons from him during her widowhood. There had been some sinister suggestions concerning the disappearance of Pollard, but I believe no evidence ever was presented going to show that there was anything irregular in the affair. We had learned a good deal concerning her physical bravery and determination while "shadowing" her during the previous weeks, and, while wishing to show her every possible courtesy due a woman, I dared not let her out of our sight. After she had selected the clothes she wanted I had Wheeler search them for a concealed weapon, but none was found.

While she was dressing for the street and I was making a hurried search of the house, I was startled by a pistol shot outside. Telling Wheeler to watch the woman, I ran from the house, to find Weigman grappling with Rev. Mr. Thomas. It seems when Thomas arrived Weigman promptly covered him with his revolver and told him he was under arrest. The minister, a powerful man physically, did not see fit meekly to submit to arrest, and he fiercely attacked the policeman, striking him a terrific blow on the jaw. Weigman fired a shot to bring help. I ran up to Thomas, and, before he had a chance to offer further resistance, clapped the handcuffs on him.

"One seems to have done it," said Weigman.

"No three men in St. Louis can take me," angrily declared Thomas.

"Not by a d—d sight," retorted the minister, significantly.

Just what he intended to do I cannot say, for at that instant there came loud shrieks from the woman in the house. Leaving the preacher handcuffed and under cover of Weigman's revolver, I rushed into the house to find Wheeler desperately trying to wrest a revolver from the determined grip of the minister's wife. The deputy marshal was a man of great physical power, but he had all he could do to secure the loaded weapon and subdue its owner. Although Wheeler had searched the clothes she put on, the woman had made a sudden movement toward a bureau drawer, from which she grabbed the revolver. After this masculine outburst of physical force, Mrs. Thomas sought refuge in the feminine relief of loud and continued screaming. I tried to quiet her, but she refused to stop. Then I threatened to handcuff her unless she calmed herself.

"For God's sake don't do that," she begged.

"Madam, I never did such a thing in my life," I said, "but I certainly shall be obliged to in this case if you don't stop that outlandish shrieking."

The threat had the desired effect. We bundled the minister and his now calm spouse away to the police station. In my hasty search of the house I had found plaster of paris molds used for making counterfeit dies, but I did not make a thorough search at that time, as there was other more important work to do. The next day, provided with a spade, I went to the Finney avenue house and made a careful search. In the back yard under the kitchen window I found buried 23 counterfeit silver dollars, while in a jar in the pantry I found a quantity of counterfeit 50-cent pieces, such as had been passed by the preacher's wife.

* * *

It was now 11 o'clock. The stable of Dr. Barnes, in which Sullivan lived, was the next objective point. The colored man had been shadowed to the Barnes residence that night, and we knew he was somewhere around the premises. I stationed myself at the alley entrance to the stable and sent Wheeler around to the front door of the house. He rang the bell, which was answered by Dr. Barnes. Wheeler asked for Sullivan.

"He is not here," said Dr. Barnes, curtly.

Wheeler told the doctor his mission.

"Sullivan isn't here," he repeated, "and you've no business around here looking for him."

Wheeler did not know how to act in the face of this extraordinary reception from a man who, we supposed, would gladly assist officers of the United States, and came around the house for further instructions from me. I had taken my stand in the alley, believing Sullivan to be in the house, and that, at the first sign of danger, he would seek to escape by way of the alley. I told Wheeler to go to the back door of the house, seek admission in the regular way, and if it were refused him, to smash the door in. He started to carry out these instructions when Sullivan dashed past him at break-neck speed in the direction of the alley, running plump into my arms. No man was ever more surprised than he. We lost no time in getting him behind the bars, for the night's work was not finished.

From the Barnes residence, after securing Sullivan, we went to Bosse's. At no time had we ever had any evidence that Bosse was implicated in any way other than having guilty knowledge of what was going on in his saloon, and by allowing the counterfeiters to rendezvous there. When we arrived he was partly undressed, counting the proceeds of the day's business. We gave him a chance to dress himself before we took him away, but no counterfeit money was found on the premises. It was 3:30 in the morning when we disposed of Bosse. The night's work had been hard, and I decided that we had earned some sleep. Thielen was arrested the next day.

It will be recalled that Whalen and Woods, after being cornered by the authorities, had consented to aid the government in its efforts to put a finish to the career of Biebush and his principal assistants. It was arranged that these men should be arrested and then formally turn state's evidence, thereby securing leniency in their own cases. They were picked up by Deputy United States Marshal Soest and myself the day after the arrest of Biebush, in an alley near Thirteenth and Olive streets, and were locked up. Early the same day, also, we raided the home and workshop of Hargate, the die-cutter, arresting him and securing a quantity of dies for the manufacture of counterfeit money. I had intended to use him as a state's witness, as he told me he had made dies for Biebush within a period which would make him liable at the time of his arrest. In this statement he was undoubtedly telling the truth, but in some way he got into communication with Biebush, and when the cases came up for trial we found Hargate had suddenly suffered from a lapse of memory in telling the first story. He said he made the dies at a time so far in the past that the offense was outlawed, and by this trick, originated by Biebush, the Englishman nearly escaped. He was in ill health, and was given a light sentence on that account. He was not an engraver of the first class, and I believe never made any more trouble for the government.

"Old Fred," realizing that he had come to his last ditch, retained the ablest criminal lawyers he could find—Judge Simmons and ex-Gov. Fletcher. Writs of habeas corpus had been sued out for "Hoosier Bill" and John Mitchell, and they were brought to St. Louis to testify against Biebush. The latter's attorneys immediately raised the point that these two were prohibited from testifying under the Missouri law, and a three days' argument on this point followed. The judge finally decided, however, that their testimony should be admitted, and I believe this case stands out as the first in that state in which convicts' testimony was admitted.

All that money and the best legal talent could do failed to break down our case, and "Old Fred" was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. The government law fixes a maximum penalty of 15 years' imprisonment for counterfeiting currency and ten years for counterfeiting metal money. Sullivan was sentenced to two years. Rev. Andrew Jackson Thomas' ministerial career was brought to a sudden close by his being sent to the penitentiary for five years. "Hankey" Thielen's sentence was one year.

Mrs. Thomas was sentenced to serve four months in jail. Technically, her offense merited greater punishment, for she had passed counterfeit money at times without the knowledge of her husband. Had her offense consisted merely in aiding her husband and working at all times with him, she would not have been punished at all, for supreme court decisions protect women who commit crimes at the instance and in the company of their husbands. Harry Woods was released as a reward for the work he had done for the government, although he was kept in prison until the time of trial.

Whalen had secretly married two months before his arrest, and, although his position was the same as that of Woods, his imprisonment resulted in his going insane, and he was taken to an asylum.

So far as I know no member of the Biebush band "settled" at that time ever appeared again in the criminal history of the country.

STORY No. 5 WILL BE "THE BOSCOBEL KONIACKERS."

Lesson for Husbands.

The late Mary A. Livermore liked to tell a story of a young friend of hers in Melrose, for she believed in this story lay a lesson for husbands. Mrs. Livermore's friend was passing a month alone, her mate having been summoned to Europe on a business trip. "And you are very lonely without your husband now?" the elder said to the younger woman one morning.

"A little lonely," was the qualified answer. "But surely," said Mrs. Livermore, "you miss your husband very much now he is away?" The other laughed rather bitterly. "Oh, no," she said. "At breakfast I just stand his newspaper up in front of his plate and half the time I forget he isn't there."—Buffalo Enquirer.

Silly Girl.

"Do you like Miss Sharpun?"

"No; she's dreadfully stupid, y' know."

"Stupid? What makes you think so?"

"The other night when I was calling on her, she exclaimed: 'Why, must you be going so soon?' And I give you my word I hadn't mentioned such a thing!"—Cleveland Leader.

GREAT SCOTT.

The Biggest Man of Addison County, Vt., Tells an Interesting Story.

E. E. Scott, meat dealer, Vergennes, Vt., Past Commander of Ethan Allen Post, G. A. R., says: "A severe attack of typhoid left me with weak kidneys. Every night I had to get up frequently to pass the urine, which was ropy, dark and very painful to void. I had no appetite, but drank water continually without being able to quench my thirst. Terrible headaches and dizzy spells oppressed me and my back was lame, sore and stiff. A month's treatment with Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of this trouble, and now I am strong and healthy and weigh 230 pounds. I give the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills."

MOCK DUCK, A NOTORIOUS CHINAMAN OF NEW YORK.

Heads Hip Sing Tong Faction—Knows All Wickedness and Could Solve Many of the Mysteries of Chinatown.

New York.—Mock Duck is the most notorious Chinamen in New York, but his face tells little of the man's character, and the most careful scrutiny of it would leave you in doubt as to whether it fitted the description of its owner, as given by the Hip Sing Tong people—who are his own—or the On Leong Tong crowd, who are his enemies.

Of Mock Duck, the Hip Sing folk say: "He is a decent, law-abiding young Chinese boy of 29 years, who has been hounded from pillar to post by his arch-enemies, the followers of Tom Lee. At times, it is true, he has shot, but only in self-defense, and if two or three On Leong Tong notches are on his gun, they are there for men who deserved to die. In his laundry uptown he attends to business, and only comes down to Mott or Doyers street on pleasure bent, or to attend meetings of his beloved society, which was formed solely to further the interests of reform in Chinatown. He is no Highbinder, does not wear a shirt of mail, and would never think of starting a riot. Mock Duck, in short, is a model citizen."

From the On Leong Tong we get this analysis of the face:

"It is that of a cruel, crafty, mysterious, bad man—the worst Chinaman in New York. There is murder in that bright eye, those stern lips, that firm chin. There is duplicity and treachery in every feature. Mock Duck is the active leader of a gang of Highbinders who want to kill off the respectable class of Chinamen in New York, and run Chinatown for the lowest purposes. The troubles from time immemorial in Pell street and its tributaries are directly traceable to the Hip Sing Tong, of which Mock Duck is the avowed leader. He is not to be trusted in any way."

As a matter of fact, Mock Duck is no angel. He has been mixed up in very unpleasant things, has killed his man and been nearly killed himself on several occasions. Since the founder of the Hip Sing Tong, one Gum Kee went back to China with $40,000 of tribute money, some five years ago, Mock Duck has been the boss of the outfit, and has caused the virtuous On Leong Tong all its trouble.

MOCK DUCK.
(The Most Notorious Celestial of New York City.)

When the On Leong Tong had so firmly intrenched itself, under the leadership of Tom Lee, that there seemed no dislodging them, it was Mock Duck's fertile brain which conceived the idea of enlisting the aid of the Parkhurst society. The On Leongs controlled all the gambling privileges in Chinatown, and stood in with the police authorities. Mock Duck's gang coveted these privileges. Then went Mock Duck to Frank Moss, agent of the Parkhurst society, and convinced him that the On Leongs were villains and the Hip Sings saints, who wanted to reform Chinatown in all its branches. Would the Parkhurst people help Mock Duck, the reformer. The bait found a biter; the Parkhurst people began to raid the joints of the On Leong Tong on testimony furnished by the Hip Sing bunch, and that started the war.

Since then the history of the feud between the two societies is fresh in every one's memory. At least a score of Chinamen have been murdered, and twice as many wounded. Mock Duck, on various occasions, has had to leave New York, either to avoid the law or to escape his enemies. On each time that he returned trouble has broken out afresh in the little streets that harbor so many thousands of Mongolian coolies. Mock Duck's people say that this has been merely a coincidence. The On Leong people say otherwise.

Peace has now been established officially, between the two Tongs. It may be real peace, it may not be.

Mock Duck, whatever his intentions regarding the future of Chinatown, is at present in no condition to carry them out, being in jail. Yes, the white man has got him, and he languishes in a cell in the Tombs on the charge of trying to bribe two police officers. There was a raid on Pell street a few nights ago, and as the officers were bringing the prisoners down to the patrol wagon Mock Duck crept out of the shadows and offered a policeman $20 to allow his cousin, Houi Lee, to escape. The policeman told him to "git." But Mock then appealed to another cop and raised the ante to $50. This fidelity to the family caused the officers to take him along with the prisoners, and on being arraigned before a judge next day Mock Duck was committed to the Tombs under $5,000 bonds.

FAMOUS STATUE RESTORED

Washington.—Down in old Virginia the new year was marked by an event of historical interest, not only to the artistic contingent, but to the world at large.

This was the replacing of that priceless art tresure—Houdon's famous statue of Gen. Washington—in the capitol, which has just been remodeled.

HOUDON'S STATUE OF WASHINGTON MODELED FROM LIFE.

For 18 months, in a little cast-iron fireproof house, built specially for the purpose in the capitol square, this invaluable piece of statuary has been kept invisible to mortal eye.

Strangers and sightseers have gazed with curiosity and longing at the little house; guides have told them what it contained, and with this they had to be satisfied, so jealously did Virginia guard the only statue made from life of her immortal son.

When the time arrived for the remodeling of the ancient capitol, planned by Thomas Jefferson, the Virginia legislature appropriated an adequate sum for the safe removing and keeping of the Houdon statue.

Experts from this city came to Richmond and personally superintended the work of taking it down from the pedestal on which it was placed in 1796 in the rotunda of the capitol. And these same experts saw that it was replaced with the same care.

Jean Antoine Houdon, the greatest portrait sculptor of the eighteenth century, at the suggestion of Franklin, came to America in 1785 and spent two weeks at Mount Vernon, where he modeled the cast from life, the assembly of Virginia having previously made an appropriation for a statue to the "Father of His Country."

Houdon, whose name will be handed down for generations to come, died in Paris in 1828. Gen. Lafayette was much pleased with the statue of Washington, and pronounced it a fac-simile of Washington's person.

The statue was erected in 1796, and represents Gen. Washington in uniform in a standing position. Time has dealt lightly with it, and it bears only here and there slight marks of its age. On the base appears the following inscription, written by Madison:

"The general assembly of Virginia have caused this statue to be erected as a monument of affection and gratitude to George Washington, who, uniting to the endowment of the hero and virtues of the patriot, and exerting both in establishing the liberties of his country, has rendered his name dear to his fellow-citizens, and given to the world an example of true glory. Done in the year of Christ, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-eight, and in the year of the Commonwealth the twelfth."

Mr. Gilbert has been appointed one of the 25 judges of first instance on the Philippine islands. He will leave for the Philippines July 1. His salary will be $4,500. The announcement of his selection was made to him recently at Washington by Secretary Taft and he at once accepted and started for home to arrange his personal affairs.

DISFIGURED WITH ECZEMA.

Brushed Scales from Face Like Powder—Under Physicians Grew Worse—Cuticura Works Wonders.

"I suffered with eczema six months. I had tried three doctors, but did not get any better. It was on my body and on my feet so thick that I could hardly put a pin on me without touching eczema. My face was covered, my eyebrows came out, and then it got in my eye. I then went to another doctor. He asked me what I was taking for it, and I told him Cuticura. He said that was a very good thing, but that he thought that my face would be marked for life. But Cuticura did its work, and my face is now just as clear as it ever was. I told all my friends about my remarkable cure. I feel so thankful I want everybody far and wide to know what Cuticura can do. It is a sure cure for eczema. CONSUMPTION'S WARNING

Inside facts soon become evident in outside symptoms.—DR. G. G. GREEN.

¶The aid of scientific inventions is not needed to determine whether your lungs are affected. The first symptoms can be readily noted by anyone of average intelligence.

¶There is no disease known that gives so many plain warnings of its approach as consumption, and no serious disease that can be so quickly reached and checked, if the medicine used is Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which is made to cure consumption.

¶It is in the early stages that German Syrup should be taken, when warnings are given in the cough that won't quit, the congestion of the bronchial tubes and the gradual weakening of the lungs, accompanied by frequent expectoration.

¶But no matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has already attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.

We work upon the Pennsy track,
Tony go oil the car,
Bad weather never holds us back,
Tony go oil the car,
We tamp up all the joints and sags,
When duty calls we never lag,
When rocks fall down the trains we flag,
While Tony oils the car.

Our section has some crooked curves,
Tony go oil the car,
But they do not jolt the peoples nerves,
Tony go grease the car,
The dishes are safe in the dining cars,
No one feels a jolt or jar,
For the pick and shovel, the wrench and bar,
Are handy upon the car.

So it is joint ahead and center back,
Tony go oil the car,
Our gang they are all cracker jacks,
Tony go oil the car,
As railroad men we are hard to beat,
Our track is always smooth and neat,
We are the kind of men you like to meet,
With Tony to oil the car.
